

From Editor's Desk

Dear Colleagues,

Greetings from Prof. B.D. Kumbar, President, Indian Library Association. On behalf of my team I thank and congratulate the outgoing team of ILA. Under the able leadership of Prof. Shabhat Hussain, Ex-President, the ILA has witnessed many drastic changes in its activities and JILA is not an exception to this.

Indian Library Association is one of the Premier Library and Information Science Association in India. Since its establishment it is working hard for the promotion of Library Movement in India. But still there is a gap between information rich and information poor. I am of the opinion that it is the prime responsibility of the national associations like ILA to work towards knowledge for all. In this direction the articles published in JILA will create interests in the minds of the LIS professionals working in different types of libraries in India.

The present team of ILA is a blend of both the teachers and practitioners and also young and experienced professionals. I assure you that the present team of ILA will also bring out sea changes in the activities of ILA and the standards of JILA in particular. The present team of ILA also requests the LIS fraternity to suggest for its improvement at different levels. I also assure you that the number of articles will be increased per issue based on the inflow of the articles to JILA. I request the LIS professionals to send the best articles (free from plagiarism and language errors) so that the standard of the JILA can be raised on par with the standards of any of the International Journals. I seek your whole hearted support and cooperation.
